COUNTRY NEVER IN BETTER SHAPE

BANKERS OPTIMISTIC OVER CONDITIONS

New Banking Law...Pension for All Financial Ills, Say Secretaries

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The federal reserve bank organization committee, back in Washington after a five day's trip through the country, in a statement issued tonight announced that its selection of federal reserve cities and definition of reserve districts would not be made until careful consideration had been given to the information accumulated on the trip. The statement said the committee, Secretaries McAdoo and Houston, found the country prosperous and learned that bankers and business men are greatly interested in the new banking system and confident of its success.

In a supplemental statement, Mr. McAdoo asserted he hoped the new system would be established in time to take care of crop-moving contingencies next fall, but that if it were not, the treasury department would stand ready to place its funds again at the disposal of business men.

Committee's Statement

The committee's statement, in part, said:

In every section of the country the committee found a practically unanimous conviction among bankers and business men that the currency bill will bring about most beneficial changes in the business of the country.

The committee was presented everywhere with overwhelming evidence of the enormous economic strength of the country and of the rapid progress of every section. The fact that the nation's banking resources as a whole made enormous advances every 12 or 15 years, approximately doubling in each such period, was made evident. While this is true of the country as a whole, it was shown that certain sections are advancing with more rapid strides than others, and that the country is fundamentally exceptionally sound and strong economically.

Country Prosperous.

"The facts and figures submitted to the committee in every part of the country show amazing growth and development, a condition of wealth and prosperity which is unprecedented. This was impressed by the large number of bankers' committees of which the president of the United States is a member, and by the fact that the president has not only encouraged but actually has created striking artificial conditions of banking. With practical unanimity, the opinion was expressed that the new measure will restore normal conditions with great resulting benefits, that the present system not only furnished no protection in times of real stringency, but also even in times of great prosperity especially when there are numerous crops, makes it impossible to meet the demands of the country.

AMMONS THANKS BANKERS FOR PURCHASING WARRANTS

Governor Says He Is Anxious to Have All Bills Due Militia Paid Promptly.

While discussing other matters with Colorado Springs bankers here yesterday, Governor Ammons took occasion to thank them for their consideration in taking up the emergency warrants being issued by the state to pay the expenses of keeping the militia in the strike zone in the southern Colorado coal fields. Although the Denver banks have taken most of the warrants issued, local institutions have purchased $25,000 worth of the certificates.

I deeply appreciate the spirit of patriotism shown by these institutions," said Governor Ammons. "I am extremely anxious to have all the militia bills paid as promptly as possible. I think the banks will continue to take the certificates and I believe we will come through the strike with all bills paid."

Every effort is being made to reduce the number of militia stationed in the southern part of the state according to the executive. Already several companies have been withdrawn from Canon City and Trinidad, and others are being recalled as rapidly as stricts will permit.

The governor commented on the "Mother" Jones incident. The supreme court has waived jurisdiction which means that the district court at Trinidad will have jurisdiction he said, and the agitator will either remain where she is or will leave the state.

The federal investigating commission may examine her at the hospital in Denver. Governor Ammons declared, but she shall not be allowed to go free in the strike zone. I am determined that she shall not be used as a means of further agitating the passions of people who are already too much agitated. They say she has a right there and I admit it. But she has not the right to agitate people to violence and this she has done. She must either leave the state or remain in the hospital.

The governor commended General Chase for his method of handling the strike situation and expressed his confidence in his fairness and good judgment.

Three hundred expected at State Gathering, Scheduled for Third Week in June.

The Colorado State Bankers association convention, which will be held in the city the third week in June, will be one of the most important ever held by the organization. In the opinion of local bankers the meeting will last three days and more than 300 bankers from all parts of the state will be in attendance. The sessions will be held at the Antlers.

A conference with bankers here yesterday, Governor Ammons discussed the question of the convention and promised to do everything in his power to make it the most successful ever. The meeting will have special features because the state at present has some emergency warrants which banks are taking, with the understanding that the legislature will appropriate at the next session to cover the warrants. The war chest at present total $400,000 and it will be in the southern Colorado banks. It will be double that amount.

The convention is to be held in the city operating under the new constitution and many questions the bankers will have to work out will be discussed. The prominent bankers from the state will be invited to deliver addresses and other leading men

SPRINGS GIRL A COUNTESS

Miss Gladys Villiers McMillan, a prominent society girl of this city, whose marriage to Count Paul Cornet of Brussels, Belgium, will be celebrated in Paris this morning. In view of the difference in time between this city and Paris, it is probable that the Colorado Springs bride is now Countess Gladys Cornet. The ceremony was performed in the Marliene, one of the oldest Catholic churches in Paris and was one of the most elaborate in that city in recent years. The countess is the daughter of Mrs. Spencer Penrose, who is in Paris to attend the ceremony. Fashionable folk from London, Paris and many other cities were invited. Although her home is in this city, the bride has spent most of her time during the last five years traveling on the continent and studying in Paris. Count Cornet is a member of an old and honored Belgian family. The couple will maintain homes in Colorado Springs, London and Brussels and it is understood will spend the greater part of the summer here.

FIRE BELL EMPTIES CITY SCHOOLS IN 60 SECONDS

MRS. LIVIA H. BRYANT DIES SUDDENLY IN SANATORIUM

Pupils Well Drilled, Says Commission. Death Here Yesterday, Following Trip Johnson, and Fire Danger Is Reduced to Minimum.

Every school child in Colorado Springs has so thoroughly drilled in what to do in case of fire, that the danger of accidents or panics, should there be a fire at any of the school buildings, has been reduced to a minimum.

This was the opinion expressed yesterday by Commissioner of Public Safety Johnson in commenting upon the series of fire drills that have been in progress at the various schools during the last ten days members of the fire department have sounded the fire alarm in every school in the city, and in each instance the buildings have been emptied in approximately 60 seconds.

All tests of the fire drill were made without the knowledge of the various school principals. At the Lowell High School, the largest grade school in Colorado, 765 pupils marched from the building yesterday morning in exactly 60 seconds after the fire bell had been rung.

The school authorities are entitled to a great deal of credit for the thorough manner in which the children have been trained, said Commissioner Johnson. We gave them no warning whatever when we sounded the alarm, and it was very gratifying to note the swiftness and decisiveness with which the children marched from the room and out of the building. At the Lowell High there is a little castle, a tower whose room is on the second floor. Two of the larger boys always carry the little follow from the bell when the gong rings.

At the High school Principal Hill is handicapped greatly by poor equipment. There is a fire bell, but there is only one push button in the entire building. This is located in a closet in the principal's office. I think push buttons should be installed on every floor and in the basement. The large number of students at the High school demands adequate fire protection and the addition of better equipment.

HOUSE PASSES THE ALASKAN RAILWAY BILL

Provides Government Shall Build and Operate Road in Alaska

GREAT NATIONAL SCHEME

Far North Will Be Opened Up for Settlement by Americans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The administration Alaskan railroad bill, authorizing the president to construct a $35,000,000 railroad from Alaska's coast to its great coal fields, was passed by the house late today by a vote of 276 to 87.

A similar measure already has passed the senate, and the bill will be taken up at once in conference between the two houses, with a view to sending it to the president, who has signed his intention of signing it.

At the eleventh hour, after a sharp parliamentary skirmish, the house eliminated from the bill as reported by the territories committee a provision authorizing a bond issue of $35,000,000 to finance the railroad and to be paid off by the proceeds of government land sales in Alaska.

Aim at Cooperation.

The senate bill provided for a $40,000,000 bond issue. Representative Fitzgerald of New York had a fight which resulted in striking out the bond provision.

Under the amended measure, the project would be financed out of the current funds in the treasury, the president being limited to $35,000,000 and $1,000,000 being appropriated for immediate expenses. Congress would appropriate each year the amount estimated to be necessary for the construction of the road.

The bill provides for the construction of a road "not to exceed 1,000 miles, to be so located as to connect one or more of the open Pacific ocean harbors on the southern coast of Alaska with the navigable waters in the interior of Alaska, and with a coal field or fields yielding coal sufficient in quality and quantity for naval use, as well as aid in the development of the agricultural and mineral and other resources of Alaska."

An effort was made by the opponents. (Continued on Page Three.)

4 KILLED, 34 HURT IN STREET CAR CRASH

Indianapolis Trolley Car Smashed Between Two Heavy Trains

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 18.—Four persons were killed and probably fatally injured, and 26 others hurt tonight when an outbound English avenue street car was crushed between two heavy traction cars. The accident was caused by slippery rails.

JAMES HORAN, 16 years old.

JACOB K. HARDY, 48 years old.

FLETCHER ROARK, motorman, English avenue car.

HARRY OLIVER, passenger.

The English avenue car, loaded with passengers, hurriedly bound from the business section, stopped at the foot of a steep grade just behind a lumber and Southern traction interurban car. A large Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction freight car ran on the grade behind the trolley car, crushing it.

Funeral services will be held from Mrs. Bryant's home, 216 North English avenue this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The body will be taken to New York tonight.

Funeral services will be held from Mr. E. V. Hotel of Morgan City, La.

STARTS DEMOCRATIC FIGHT

Points Out "Inconsistencies"
of Administration on Party Platform

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Accusing President Wilson of inconsistency in his views on the binding effect of the Democratic platform and charging that greed of the railroads and the audacious claims of Great Britain seem far more potent with our president than the appeal of the womanhood of the nation, Senator Bristow, Republican of Kansas, turned discussion of woman suffrage in the Senate today into a vigorous debate on the proposed repeal of the free tolls provision of the Panama canal act.

Committee's Statement.

The committee's statement, in part, said:

In every section of the country the committee found a practically unanimous conviction among bankers and business men that the currency bill will bring about most beneficial changes in the business of the country.

The committee was presented everywhere with overwhelming evidence of the enormous economic strength of the country and of the rapid progress of every section. The fact that the nation's banking resources as a whole made enormous advances every 12 or 15 years, approximately doubling in each such period, was made evident. While this is true of the country as a whole, it was shown that certain sections are advancing with more rapid strides than others, and that the country is fundamentally exceptionally sound and strong economically.

Country Prosperous.

The facts and figures submitted to the committee in every part of the country show amazing growth and strength and disclose a condition of industrial, commercial and financial power, and prosperity,

which can not fail to impress.

The committee was impressed by the frank admission of bankers throughout the country that the present banking system not only encourages, but actually has created, striking artificial conditions of banking. With practical unanimity, the opinion was expressed that the new measure will restore normal conditions with great resulting benefits, that the present system not only furnishes no protection in times of real stringency, but also often in times of greatest prosperity, especially when there are bountiful crops, makes it impossible to meet the needs of the country.

Senator Bristow, in his speech, said:

"I am not so much concerned with the question of whether the president has told the suffragists he could not advocate their cause because the Democratic party did not express itself on the question, while he proposed that congress should reverse its tolls question despite the fact that the party had endorsed its action."

Leaders Still Unconverted.

While senators were thus engaged in their open discussion of the approaching battle in Congress over the free executive desire for reversal of the Panama policy, the president was himself engaged with leaders of the two houses of representatives who are opposed to repealing the declaration of the party platform. He discussed the situation with Majority Leader Underwood and Representative Ammons of North Carolina, but, so far as could be learned, did not convert them to his view, that the abolition of all tolls to American vessels violates the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and embarrasses the administration in its foreign relations.

Senator Bristow, in his speech, said:

"I am not so much concerned with the question of whether the president has told the suffragists he could not advocate their cause because the Democratic party did not express itself on the question, while he proposed that congress should reverse its tolls question despite the fact that the party had endorsed its action."

Refers to Platform.

In this connection, the Kansas senator mentioned the reference in the Baltimore platform favoring "a single presidential term," and asked whether the president would "interpret this as meaning that he would not seek a second term." The president responded that he had influenced the president of the Massachusetts, Republican member of the foreign relations committee, to take the less extreme attitude on the tolls question solely by his desire to restore the United States to its former position.

AMMONS THANKS BANKERS FOR PURCHASING WARRANTS

Governor Says He Is Anxious to Have All Bills Due Militia Paid Promptly.

White discussing other matters with Colorado Springs bankers here yesterday, Governor Ammons took occasion to thank them for their consideration in taking up the emergency warrants being issued by the state to pay the expenses of keeping the militia in the strike zone in the southern Colorado coal fields. Although the Denver banks have taken most of the warrants issued, local institutions have purchased $25,000 worth of the certificates.

"I deeply appreciate the spirit of patriotism shown in these institutions," said Governor Ammons. "I am extremely anxious to have all the militia bills paid as promptly as possible. I think the banks will continue to take the certificates and I believe we will come through the strike with all right."

Every effort is being made to reduce the number of militia stationed in the southern part of the state, according to the executive. Already several companies have been withdrawn from Canon City and Trinidad, and others are being recruited as rapidly as safety will permit.

The governor commented on the "Mother" Jones incident. The supreme court had ruled jurisdiction with means that the district court at Trinidad will have jurisdiction to hear and try all cases still other remain where she is or will go the west.

The federal investigating commission and the executive of the hospital in Denver, the Governor Ammons declared, that she shall not be allowed to go back to the coal fields. I am convinced that she would not be allowed as a means of further antagonizing the passions of people who are already too much agitated. There are still, however, rights there and that I would rather she had the right to agitate people to express her views and the state is not going to interfere with that.

The governor commented generally on the convention and many questions which bankers will have to work out. The government bankers from the west, however, expressed their opinion that they would like to make this possible.

GREAT NATIONAL SCHEME

Far North Will Be Opened

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The administration Alaskan railroad bill, authorizing the president to construct a $35,000,000 railroad from Alaska's coast to its great coal fields, was passed by the house late today by a vote of 230 to 87.

A similar measure already has passed the senate, and the bill will be taken up at once in conference between the two houses, with a view to sending it to the president, who has signified his intention of signing it.

At the eleventh hour, after a sharp parliamentary skirmish, the house eliminated from the bill, as reported by the territory committee, a provision authorizing a bond issue of $35,000,000 to finance the railroad and to be paid off by the proceeds of government land sales in Alaska.

Cut Out Bond Provision.

The senate bill provided for a $40,000,000 bond issue. Representative Fitzgerald of New York led a fight which resulted in striking out the bond provision.

Under the amended measure, the project would be financed out of the current funds in the treasury, the amount being limited to $35,000,000 and $1,000,000 being appropriated for immediate expenses. Congress would appropriate each year the amount estimated to be necessary for the construction of the road.

The bill provides for the construction of a road "not to exceed 1,000 miles to be so located as to connect one or more of the open Pacific ocean harbors on the southern coast of Alaska with the navigable waters in the interior of Alaska, and with a coal field or fields yielding coal sufficient in quality and quantity for naval use, as well as aid in the development of the agricultural and mineral resources of the state of Alaska."

4 KILLED, 34 HURT IN STREET CAR CRASH

Indianapolis Trolley Car
Smashed Between Two
Heavy Trains

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 18.—Four persons were killed and probably fatally injured, and 24 others hurt last night when an outbound English avenue street car was crushed between two heavy traction cars. The accident was caused by slippery rails.

The dead:

JAMES HORAN, 16 years old.

JACOB K. HARDY, 16 years old.

FLETCHER ROARK, fireman, English avenue car.

HARRY OLIVER, passenger.

The English avenue car, loaded with passengers, coming down from the business section, stopped at the foot of a steep grade just behind a Lombard & Southern traction interurban car. A large Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction freight car on the grade behind the city car crashed into the smaller trolley.

The three passengers killed were standing on the rear platform of the English avenue car, which was decapitated.

PRINIDAY, Feb. 18.—President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds spent two hours tonight at the White house examining bills pending before Congress dealing with the trust problem. It was the first opportunity the president has had for long discussion on the subject with the chief legal officer of the government.

No announcements were made afterward, the attorney general expressing the opinion that the whole question would have to be worked out gradually, but an idea of the principles which the administration desires embodied in the proposed legislation was gained from an authoritative quarter.

The attorney general and the president are in agreement that the proposed interstate trade commission can be made a valuable instrument for dealing with the trust problem, provided its powers are properly restricted.

At the eleventh hour, after a sharp parliamentary skirmish, the house eliminated from the bill, as reported by the territory committee, a provision authorizing a bond issue of $35,000,000 to finance the railroad and to be paid off by the proceeds of government land sales in Alaska.

Would Prevent Monopoly.

What the administration is desirous of doing is to add such legislation as will help to prevent monopoly, but will in no way increase the already debt-laden area around the strike law.

Further conferences between the two members of the commission and the president and the attorney general are to be held on Monday morning, and the result is likely.

The emphasis at present is on the fact that the pending measures are merely tentative and based chiefly for purposes of discussion.

Members of the interstate commerce commission will appear tomorrow before the house committee on interstate commerce to discuss the advisability of legislation for holding regulation of railroad securities. Their appearance will mark the beginning of the administration's hearings on this phase of the union's railroad program.

Make Careful Examination.

The two members of the commission are to be present to make a careful examination of the proposed legislation.

Editorial in the Denver News, Feb. 18, 1914.

If the Progressives accomplish nothing more substantial than to retain the respect of the country by their adherence to principle, they have surely succeeded. They have refused to compromise principle for the spoils of office. They have rejected overtures from the standpatters of Republicanism because they included sacrifice of principle. They have pursued their course of political rectitude as they see it with unwavering devotion to the fundamentals of their party organization. They therefore honor to spoils, defeat to success won at the cost of treason.

Time and again through leaders and the slogan of party, they have made it manifest that there is nothing in common between the Republicanism of the Cannons, the Additives, the Smoots and the Manns, and the Progressivism of the Roosevelts, the Beveridges, the Metcarts and the Governor Johnsons. Their platforms of principle are as divergent as the poles. The remnant of the Republicanism that was shattered at Chicago stands for office and the profits of office. Progressivism, if it stands for anything, stands for high ideals, social, economic and political. There is not a shred of sympathy between the two.

Republicanism went to its death because it fought the very things that Progressivism champions. In feeble fashion it is trying to maintain that position today. Here and there is a pretense of a threatened limp away from the old school anchor of privilege and the emoluments of privilege. But it is only a pretense, very hollow at that, and only in spots where the iron grip of the old guard is not so firm. For when the Republican leaders forsook their people for the classes, the people found a new haven in the Progressive party, and they appear to be eminently well satisfied with the change. That's the reason there is a lusty progressive element in the land, and a Republican skeleton.

COLORADO BANKS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 18.—A comparative analysis of the condition of state and national banks in Colorado by the State Bank Commissioner E. H. McMillan, who was present at the meeting of the Colorado Bankers Association in the Hotel Colorado yesterday, showed that the condition of the banks in the state is excellent. The total assets of the state banks increased 10 per cent during the last five years. The statement was read by the president of the association, George W. Ammons, who is president of the Colorado Bankers Association. He said that the condition of the banks in the state is excellent and many questions concerning the banks will be discussed by the government bankers from the west, who are invited to dinner and a social gathering.

The governor, commented generally on the convention and many questions which bankers will have to work out.

WESTERN FUEL CO.

NOT OUT OF TROUBLE

Officials Convicted of Fraud and New Prosecution

Is Launched

SAN FRANCISCO. Feb. 18.—The Western Fuel company found itself to be not out of difficulties, by any means. Following on the heels of the conviction of James B. Smith, vice president and general manager, E. C. Mills, superintendent, and E. H. Mayer, chief weigher, for defrauding the government out of customs drawbacks last night, J. J. Scott, collector of internal revenue, seized the company's books to conduct an investigation, that he may determine whether his theory that the corporation has defrauded the government out of something near $800,000 in income taxes during the last five years is correct. Also the chief special agent of the treasury department announced that the company would be sued for the amount of drawbacks the government lost through the alleged frauds of General Manager James B. Smith and his associates.

The internal revenue investigation will be based upon the annual statements of the corporation, which were adopted by the directors and the stockholders in their regular meetings, and which formed a part of the damaging evidence against the three men who were convicted of frauds.

May Be Prosecuted.

It is claimed that the annual statements of net income fell far behind the actual revenue of the company, as revealed during the recent trial.

The corporation tax law provides for a fine of double the amount of the tax shown to have been evaded. It is shown that the officials of the company falsified the revenue statement upon which the tax is levied, those officials are liable to criminal prosecution.

A corps of experts were put to work on the books of the company today, but it is said it will take months for them to prepare a complete report.

E. C. Norcross, secretary of the corporation, said today that his company did not fear an investigation by the internal revenue branch of the government, but that he had objected to the men from that department working on the books until the fraud trials were over.

MEXICAN EDITOR MAKES THREATS AGAINST CHARGE

MEXICO CITY. Feb. 18.—President Wilson, through Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American chargé d'affaires, is insisting that President Huerta and General Villa, the rebel leader, agree upon the maintenance of a neutral zone at Torreon, in which foreigners and other noncombatants may have some degree of safety in the event of battle.

President Huerta has agreed to the plan conditional upon General Villa's acquiescence in it. It is understood that agents of the United States are making representations to General Huerta for the establishment of the zone. There is nothing here to indicate that there will be serious fighting at Torreon for several days.

Salvador Diaz Miron, editor of El Imparcial, has been placed under police surveillance on account of the report that he had threatened to kill Mr. O'Shaughnessy, who recently protested to President Huerta concerning the character of a series of anti-Wilson editorials appearing in El Imparcial. It appears, however, that the most serious threat made by Miron was that he would repeat to Mr. O'Shaughnessy's face what he had written in editorials.

O'Shaughnessy Alarmed.

The chargé takes the editor seriously and has reported the incident to Washington. The state department has assured him that it approves of his protest and that the American government intends to give him and his family protection.

Indicative of the slightly increased anti-American spirit there appeared today the first issue of a weekly magazine, the purpose of which is announced as to attack Washington. Mexico City police, most of the cartoons are directed against Mr. Luis A. President Wilson's personal representative.

The main line of railroad from the capital to the United States, which was open for several days, is again interrupted between San Luis Potosi and Saltillo, and the rebels are reported to be gathering around the former city.

With a revolver hidden under her coat, they set Silverware and other valuables alleged to have been stolen by the couple were recovered by the police. Mrs. Anschett will be given a hearing tomorrow.

SENATOR THOMAS P. GORE, announced that he desired to introduce no evidence and rested his case. Our verdict would have been the same in that event as now returned by us in favor of the defendant.

Trial Lasts Week.

The trial began last Wednesday. In her declaration, Mrs. Bond alleged that the senator assaulted her while they were conferring at a hotel in Washington last March in connection with the possible appointment of her husband Julian Bond, as internal revenue collector at Oklahoma City.

Senator Gore denied the charges and, as a countercharge, alleged that the suit was instigated by political opponents who had failed in their efforts to obtain federal patronage.

The jury comprised nine farmers, a grocer, a banker and a broker. Mrs. Bond, called as the first witness, denied any knowledge of the plot alleged by the senator who is a candidate for renomination at the Oklahoma primaries next August. Efforts to have depositions read bearing on alleged incidents in connection with the past of both plaintiff and defendant were prevented by a ruling of Judge Clark, who held such evidence not vital to the suit.

Gore Said Charge "Infamous Lie."

T. E. Robertson, Kirby Fitzpatrick and Dr. J. P. Earp, Oklahomans who were in Washington at the time of the hotel episode, appeared as witnesses for Mrs. Bond. All were unsuccessful candidates for federal positions. Robertson and Fitzpatrick claimed to have been eyewitnesses to the alleged assault while Earp asserted he had been captured by gore to have Mrs. Bond leave Washington and push the matter.

Testifying in his own defense, Senator Gore characterized the allegations as "infamous lies." Other witnesses for the defense quoted witnesses for the plaintiff as admitting that he framed the senator. Gore and his wife, Katherine Duer Mackay, his wife, was granted by the courts of Marion on Wednesday last, it was announced here tonight by Frederick P. Conder, counsel for Mr. Mackay.

The defense obtained in Paris was the result of a suit brought by Mrs. Mackay on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Mackay interposed a counter claim on the same grounds.

Out Only Few Minutes.

The case went to the jury at 1:42 o'clock after Morton Rutherford, attorney for Mrs. Bond, made the closing argument. A few minutes later the jury was summoned to the jury room.

We have reached a verdict," the grocer told him.

"A hung jury over the court room. The jury is coming in," whispered Mrs. Gore, who sat in the dock. She leaned over and touched the senator's arm. She was weeping.

"Good," said gore to his wife, "it is all over." He had been all through the trial.

We the jury find for the defense," read the foreman.

Then the court sent for its final charge.

Court Forgot to Adjourn.

No one tried to stem the lenient demonstration. Judge Clark smiled. After the demonstration had lasted to minuter, the judge left the bench. Court never was adjourned. The judge did it. So did the sheriff.

Senator Gore alone remained calm. The crowd surged toward him. His wife had her arms about him. She was weeping almost uncontrollably. Hundreds crowded to get the senator's hands to congratulate him. The demonstration lagged 10 minutes.

Mrs. Bond and her husband left the court room while the demonstration was at its height.

Mrs. Gore declared she was too happy for words.

I am thinking now of my babies and

SEN. GORE ADMITTED OF ASSAULT CHARGE

Jury Out Only Ten Minutes; Absolutely No Ground for Gore, It Says

OKLAHOMA CITY. Feb. 18.—United States Senator Thomas Pryor Gore late today was exonerated of charges of improper conduct by a verdict in his favor, returned in district court in the suit for $60,000 damages instituted by Mrs. Minnie E. Bond of Oklahoma City.

The verdict was returned 10 minutes after the case was given to the jury. Only one ballot was taken.

"We find," the jury stated in the verdict, "the evidence submitted by the plaintiff entirely insufficient upon which to base a suit, that said evidence wholly exonerates the defendant, and had the defendant, at the conclusion of the plaintiff's evidence, an-

President Wilson was one of the first to send his congratulations to Senator Gore after the verdict was returned. An hour later this telegram came from the White house signed by the president's private secretary.

"Heartiest congratulations."

WILSON FAVERS RATE INCREASE, REPORTED

HACHITA N. M., Feb. 18.—Maximo Castillo, the bandit, was brought here this afternoon by United States troops.

With him were his brother, his trumpeter and the latter's wife, and two Indian women. None was mounted.

The bandit apparently was not averse to placing himself under the protection of the United States. His band, which for months has harassed

settlers, held prisoners for ransom,

burned, sacked and stolen in a career

which culminated in the Cumbe tunnel disaster, is scattered and believed to be broken.

Since the Cumbe disaster he has known no rest and seemed on the verge of nervous breakdown when brought here. Villa's rebels have been hot on his trail, and along the American border hard-riding troopers kept sleepless watch. Finally he chose to cross the border as his fate.

Clark Denies Report.

The president never has discussed

with me the proposed rate advance

and has not expressed respecting it.

Mr. Clark learned, however, while at the White house, according to officials, that the president hoped for an early

decision of the rate problem.

White house officials said later that while the president had positive views on the rate question, he neither desired nor thought it proper to present

his beliefs to the commission, as he regarded it as a quasi-judicial body.

It was learned at the White house,

however, that in casual talks with senators who had mentioned the subject,

the president had expressed himself as believing an increase of some kind in rates would be justified.

JAMES WESLEY SCOTT

COLORADO SPRINGS can ill afford to lose men of the stamp of James Wesley Scott. He was the type of man who is so needed in the public schools; and so seldom found. His very life was an inspiration to the children whose destinies he had so large a share in shaping. He had that rare faculty of making men love him;
his was the great gift of personality.

And he was doing the biggest work
there is to be done today. The school teacher is not in the glare of publicity; he does not get the adulation and applause of the crowd. But, after all, it is his work that tells more than politician, more than business man, more than editor, more even than minister on the future of the race. And the influence of James Wesley Scott told always for good, for right, for truth.

All citizens will unite to mourn his untimely death and none more than the thousands of boys and girls who knew him personally and loved him for what he was
and for what he had done for them.

TO PREVENT FUTURE STRIKES

AN anonymous investigator for the Christian Science Monitor has just made a survey of the Colorado coal strike for that publication. The investigator is described as "a former mining engineer, now an attorney, who has made himself familiar with each existing phase in the strike zone." Although his anonymity detracts somewhat from the weight of his conclusions, still they are very worth consideration.

He is of the opinion that the strike is practically ended. He recognizes, however, that the cause of the strike, the demand for the recognition of the union, is likely at any time to lead to a new strike. And, therefore, he submits four proposals for
the settlement of future strikes:

(1) Compulsory incorporation of labor unions under state or national laws.

(2) Compulsory arbitration of strikes.

(3) That employers allow employees to share in all profits of the company on the basis of length of service and wages.

(4) Government ownership and operation of coal mines.

The Monitor investigator looks with favor on the first three of these suggestions;
he does not, apparently, approve the fourth.
Public opinion in Colorado, on the other hand, seems to consider the fourth method as most practical for the accomplishing of results. At least, petitions for the state mining of coal are being signed generally by labor unions and farmers, and by a large proportion of the general public.

Compulsory arbitration is impossible without an amendment to the state constitution, and possibly then the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution would block it. Besides, both employers and unions are opposed to compulsory arbitration. Voluntary mediation, however, such as exists in Canada, is possible, and the Colorado Progressive Service board is now at work on a bill embodying this principle. In some form or other, it is likely to be embodied in law.

But there seems little doubt that a state coal mining amendment will be submitted to the people this fall, and that it will be adopted. If state coal mining proves successful that will be the method adopted in this state to solve this perplexing problem. If it should prove unsuccessful other methods will, of course, be given a chance.
For it is intolerable that, when such a disagreement occurs between capital and labor, there should be no other alternative than
to let them fight it out—while the public suffers.

A NEEDED EXTENSION

SECRETARY LANE of the department of the interior has agreed to an extension of ten years in the time for the repayment
of the funds loaned to the various reclamation projects. Settlers under these projects, who have been required to pay for the big irrigation canals in ten years, will now be given twenty.

The new order but proves anew the desire of the interior to aid in every way in the development of the arid west. It had been found that ten years was too short a time for the repayment of these loans. Settlers, in their first years, have a difficult enough struggle at best; it's a hard fight to reclaim the desert, however well repaid the pioneer finally is. And the ten-year requirement multiplied the difficulty of the task many fold.

Secretary Lane's order will bring joy to the settlers under two great projects in Colorado, the Uncompahgre and the Grand Valley. It will aid greatly in the development of those two rich sections of the state.

"REFORM" REJECTED

THE fact that former Mayor Gill of Seattle has received almost as many votes in the primary election as all his opponents does not mean, of course, that he will be elected. It does look, however, as if that would be the final result.

Mayor Gill was recalled a few years ago because of his wide open policy. He was driven from office by reform. But reform, in Seattle, as so often in other cities, meant little more than the closing of the resorts of vice. No constructive policy was adopted. The people saw nothing done for, after all, the enforcement of the law,
and the saving of a few dollars in taxes
through economy do not appeal very strongly to the average taxpayer. And, because there has been business depression,
the reform administration gets the blame.

Reform, to last, must be more than merely negative. It must accomplish something. It must go forward. The closing of vice districts, the enforcement of the laws,
are badly enough needed, heaven knows.
But, after all, the people are more and more demanding something positive from their city governments, and the more they read of municipal achievements in Germany and England, the stronger grows their desire along this line.

Reform, if it is to accomplish lasting results in American cities, must go to the source of municipal corruption; must substitute positive for merely negative achievement.

DR. JOHNSON AND THE SUFFRAGETS

Mrs. Boswell has the mien and manner of a gentlewoman, and such a person and mind as would not in any place either be admired or condemned. She is in a proper degree inferior to her husband; she cannot rival him, nor can he ever be ashamed of her.

Thus the great Samuel Johnson wrote, in 1773, of the wife of his friend and biographer-to-be. And this conception of woman and of her proper place in the scheme of existence he emphasizes on numerous other occasions. It was the typically English view of that day—and it has persisted, to a large extent, even into this twentieth century.

Is it any wonder, then, that English women of any spirit become militants in their demand for equal rights?

insurance men in the state, was laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery last Tuesday morning. The services
by the Reverend Arthur N. Taff at St. Stephen's Episcopal church and the music by the choir were inspiring in their very simplicity. The body lay in state at the church for two hours before the service, completely banked with many beautiful flowers
showing the love and esteem in which he was held by his many friends.

Mr. McCall formerly lived at Deckerville, Mich.,
where he married Miss Blower of the same town.
Later he came to Colorado Springs in search of his health, which he partially regained through the constant care and devotion of his loving wife. Even in his affliction and many hours of suffering he still retained his kind, cheerful disposition. He was a man of strong and noble character and fought for life very courageously, never losing hope until almost the last hour. The consolation of the sad wife and mother will be the comfort of their son, Harry James McCall of Yale, Mich., a brother of the deceased, and two sisters of Mrs. McCall of Deckerville, Mich., arrived Monday to attend the last rites of their departed brother.

—A FRIEND.

IMMIGRANTS AND THE FARM.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

An editorial entitled, "The Alien in the City," in Tuesday's Gazette, relates the desirability of foreign immigrants seeking employment on the farms instead of herding together in the cities. We read much of this nowadays, and the lack of practical knowledge of the subject discussed fills the writer with amazement, having been born and reared on an American farm.

Of those who have the means or opportunity to become farm owners I have nothing to say, but wish to speak only of the opportunity of those Italians, Americans, Poles, etc., of whom The Gazette editorial speaks have of obtaining employment on the American farm. This immigrant from southern Europe has an agricultural knowledge of producing crops by the use of the hoe, shovel, hand rake, and, possibly, the ox yoked to a primitive plow. Such a human, strong in the back and weak in the brain (the typical man behind the hoe) is the picture in the mind of the city-bred person when the American farm hand is mentioned. They are ignorant of the fact that the job requires no small degree of technical skill and ability.

Would it be advisable to intrust one of these ignorant foreigners with several hundred dollars worth of good horses flesh and complicated farm machinery? What success would he have with the cattle that is just being broken to work? What success with the corn planter in getting straight rows both ways, with the requisite number of kernels in each hill and no hills mis-ad? How about the proper operation and efficient use of the gang plow, the grain drill, the small grain harvester, the corn harvester and other machinery? If you were producing a crop on high-priced land, would you intrust its care to such labor if it offered its services gratis?

There is undoubtedly a scarcity of efficient farm labor. Many men who can do those things efficiently now live in the cities and towns. They represent every degree of failure and success, from section head to railroad president, from poorly paid labor to proprietor, from court house janitor to judge. In time past most farm parents have urged their sons to secure an education and, as they have expressed it, "become something better than a farmer."
In this they have been ably seconded by the pastors of the rural churches, who have urged the merits of their denominational colleges. All these things have produced a scarcity of labor and brains which agriculture sorely needs, but which other industries must have, and perforce must go to the farm to find. C. V. LOCKWOOD.

COMPETITION

BY GEORGE FITCH.
Author of "At Read Old Swish."

Competition is a mysterious force which enables men to perform impossible feats.

It is supplied by some other fellow, who is trying to do things a little better. When a man runs a mile by himself, he seldom does it in less than six minutes, unless he is pursuing a train. But when some other chap is running, too, men have been known to run a mile in a little over four minutes and to live happily ever afterward, not because they caught anything by running so fast, but because the other fellow didn't catch them.

When a man has no competition in business,
he sells as cheaply as he possibly can and looks ruin in the face with a quiver of fear. When he has competition he cuts the price in two and the next year he buys an automobile.

It is quite easy to distinguish competition by becoming a customer. When a railroad agent smiles blandly and says that the company will take your freight as a favor, but that you should not let it occur again, there is no competition in the vicinity.
When a gas company installs a runaway meter in your home and its only answer, when you complain about being charged for 11,000 feet of gas during the month in which you were away, is to ask you to close the door as you go out, competition in the neighborhood is nearer than cash. When an ice company suddenly begins to raise its prices 100 per cent at a jump, because of the increased price of hay and bulb pearls, it is a sure sign that someone has gone out with a gun and shot competition in a vital spot.

A few years ago express companies charged more
to carry articles than manufacturers charged to make them, and had no money left for delivery except within shouting distance of the office. They were doing the very best they could, considering the
high rate of dividends, but one day the government
unloaded a fresh barrel of competition and established the parcel post. Today when a man takes an express parcel into an office, the manager weeps
because he wasn't allowed to send for it, and rates
have dropped to such a ruinous depth that the companies are making a little more money than ever.

Competition does many curious things like this,
and is a great blessing to the rude, unlettered customer.
But great financiers have always despised it and up to a few years ago a trust magnate liked nothing better than to grab competition by the neck when he met it in a quiet place, and choke it to death with a few deft movements. However, a closed season on competition of 12 months in every year has been established, and the corporation which attempts to murder it gets soaked as hard as a man who shoots deer in July.

A few years ago express companies charged more
to carry articles than manufacturers charged to
make them, and had no money left for delivery except within shouting distance of the office. They were doing the very best they could, considering the
high rate of dividends, but one day the government
unloaded a fresh barrel of competition and established the parcel post. Today when a man takes an express parcel into an office, the manager weeps
because he wasn't allowed to send for it, and rates
have dropped to such a ruinous depth that the companies are making a little more money than ever.

Competition is training a rotten deceptive campaigner. —Durham Democrat.

And this from a paper that supported both Ammons and Kenehan in 1912, on the same ticket:

"Everything I do seems to irritate and annoy my husband," writes a reader friend. "I seem to be losing my hold upon him. I love him and I think that under all his unkindnesses he loves me. What can I do?"

I wonder how many other women are striking to answer the same question. I wonder how they expect any outsider
can answer it if they themselves cannot.

I myself know of a woman
a good mother and a loving wife whose husband has stripped away from her, quite unmercifully, during the last few years. Yet during the years of their married life
nothing was too good for her,
nothing he could do too much.
He literally worshipped her.

There are no names, no surnames, nor any other women. To his friends he is still the same lovable, interesting man they always knew only to his wife he is changed. He looks at me as if he hated me," she says. "I cannot see how I have failed him, how I have changed."

"Even my little faults he used to laugh at," I wonder.
If they are not the key.

Isn't it true that the real peccadilloes cost a man his laugh over the loss of all the more fun during the days of his courtship, may as well not during his marriage. So far, then, I need a distance that may eventually culminate in divorce.

To women who are conscious of losing their husbands, who feel that many things they say and do irritate him now, when they used to please, I can simply proffer this thought. You may have found that little peculiarities of your father and mother used to enrage and annoy you, without reason perhaps, but surely you never noticed.

It is your husband finding in you the same little peculiarities to annoy him. Then consider Mon-tagne once more:

"By how much domestic thorns are numerous and slight, by so much they prick deeper and without warning, easily surprising us when we least suspect them."

ODDS AND ENDS

Today the Denver Water company is kicking itself about the city, remembering that it had a chance to bottle the entire fight by accepting Costigan's proposal for a purchase of the property by the city for $10,000,000.

And now the company, facing bankruptcy, will have to take for its property what it can get as junk.

If $3,000,000 will build the Moffat tunnel, Denver will build it. But we incline to some skepticism on the subject.

The Progressive club in Denver took a united stand in the water fight. And it was against the franchise. Some bad little actors those Progressives, eh?

The one thing that distinguishes Progressives, everywhere, is that they always take a definite, clean-cut stand, and fight for their principles, win or lose. And that, by the way, is the one great reason why eventually they're bound to win.

Congressman Taylor is the whole thing in that Michigan investigation.
But he seems to be on the right track.

Castillo is at last really within the tolls—and of Uncle Sam. And Villa's mouth waters already over the approaching execution.

However, if execution is ever justified, it is in the case of Mr. Castillo. The murderer of a whole trainload of men, women and children can very readily be spared.

Costigan's candidacy for governor is being sarcastically advertised by Representative Austin, Republican, of the Investigating committee. How the G.
O. P. does love E. P.!

But our private guess is that Costigan will come through this coal investigation with colors flying, just as he came through the Denver water fight.

When a man's right it takes more than disgruntled politicians to discredit him.

Catarrh! WHETHER IN Head, Throat, Stomach, Kidneys or Bladder, Use S. S. S.

It is definitely known that catarrh is cured by the simple process of isolating the blood with antiseptic medicines that stop inflammatory actions throughout the mucous linings of all the organs of the body. This is with the famous Swift's Surecide of it is widely known. S. S. S. It is taken into the blood naturally as the most nourishing food. It spreads its influence to every organ in the body, through the veins and arteries, and bleeds all mucous surfaces to exchange inflammatory acids and other irritating substances for arterial vessels that effectually cleanse the system and thus put an end to all intestinal pollution. S. S. S. cleans out stomach of mucus accumulations, it purges blood-making material from the body, it cures the intestines, commences with these food elements to set the circulation and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in the process of purification so you will soon realize the wonderful effects by the absence of headache, ached clearing of the air passage, steadily improved nasal condition, a sense of bodily health, that how completely catarrh often gets the entire system. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores or special order on any blood disease with the Swift Specific Co. and Swift Biological Co. Do not delay to get a bottle of S. S. S. now, you may never be aware of all the benefits of this series.

Colorado will have a complete exhibit of its agricultural and mineral resources at the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco next year, according to Gov. Elias M. Ammons, who was in this city yesterday conferring with local bankers. Governor Ammons outlined the plan for the exhibit and the Colorado Springs Clearing House association pledged $500 toward a fund of $7,500 which will be raised by public subscription to pay the expense of collecting and arranging the exhibit.

The state immigration commissioner immediately will start the work of arranging for the exhibit. The products will be grown under special conditions and given special care. Next fall when they are harvested they will be sent to Denver where they will be mounted and prepared for shipping. Governor Ammons believes when the legislature approves the exhibit they will vote a proper appropriation to send it to California.

Parrett Revivals Are Keeping Up Interest

The revival meetings at the Tourist Memorial church are continuing with profound interest. Last night Porter Bell rendered as a solo, "Pentecostal Fire," and Mrs. Parrett sang effectively "The Wages of Sin Is Death," following the sermon on the same theme by Dr. Parrett. Dr. Parrett said in part: "The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life."

If you will study this scripture you will find that the apostle was discussing the great doctrine that salvation, to the Jew as well as the Gentile, was through the Lord, Jesus Christ, by faith, and both were obliged to live holy lives, and then proceeds to show the results of the choice that each of them makes.

There seems to be an effort to believe the death of Jesus rendered obedience to the moral law useless. The deeper into the Word one goes the more obligation is there to try to save.

But I am sure none of us can misunderstand this plain statement of truth. "The wages of sin is death." All of us understand that the violation of law, municipal, state or national, and the laws that God has made in the physical world means suffering execution of penalty. In this municipality you have laws and the people expect to obey them and there is not a law but what has a penalty attached for the violation. If it did not have, then it would be mere moral code, whether it be municipal law or supreme law, and we know when we violate the law of the state nation or the city, we lay ourselves liable to pay the penalty of the law we are violating. All laws, both state municipal and national, find their great fundamental principles in the Bible.

It is well for us to give consideration to this great truth. Why take the fundamental principles underlying law from the word of God, why do they? Because men recognize the authority of the word of God. The Bible presents to you and me the truth and God, and it is no excuse for a man or woman to say, "I don't understand the law of God." If a man comes into your community and violates the law it is no excuse for him to say, "I don't understand the law." Though you neglect to inform yourself of and understand all the law, ignorance of obligation is afforded no excuse at all.

"The wages of sin is death; the soul that sinneth it shall surely die." So we have scores of other scriptures standing by and back of these declarations adding to and confirming them. God states the truth and leaves it to work out its own details. If the book had been written by men inspired they would have gone on to prove it, but God, uttering an eternal truth, says that it will work out its own destiny. He leaves it to establish itself. On that we would understand the plain, simple law of God, the eternal law of God. "The wages of sin is death. The law against thieves doesn't bother me. Why?" Because I don't intend to be a thief. The law against sins doesn't make a man a sinner. The man or woman make themselves sinners and the word of God says that the wages of sin is death, and this word condemns us. God's law is eternal, it is fixed both physical and divine, and when men violate it they have to suffer for the violation of it. God does not damn a man. A man damns himself. On that God would open our eyes to see the things that God reveals in his word that you and I must learn what is there about sin that we will introduce it into our life. Sin does not respect you. Why? Sin is not in the name of common sense, that we introduce it into our lives when it has no respect for nations or states or kingdoms or homes or anything else. Men and women introduce it into their lives and it drags them into degradation and shame. Sin will come into the pulpit and lay its hand upon the man of God and contaminate the name of his whole family and laugh at its victims, denounce his manly presence and drag him down to shame. Sin has no respect for the father or mother in the home. It will destroy both soul and body. It will pull its fingers upon the life of a godly old cultured refined daughter of the home and drag her down to degradation, sorrow and misery, and will send her rapidly to her grave. Thirty thousand annually in the city of Chicago and 180,000 in America every year go to the under the hands of sin, and sin it dominates them will and drag them down to bitter shame. Sin is our enemy. Its duty is to bring us to execution of death for God says, "The wages of sin is death." You can't earn it, you can't buy it. If you were a millionaire and lay your money all down in order to have salvation for five minutes it would be all done in the sight of God.

The services will continue each evening this week and Sunday morning. Dr. Parrett will speak to the members of the Sunday school at 10 o'clock and at 11 the Rev. A. R. and the Woman Reverend couple of the city will attend the services in bodies with a special sermon by the evangelist. Sunday evening service will begin at 6:30 o'clock and will be the concluding service under the leadership of Dr. and Mrs. Parrett. The public is cordially invited to all of the remaining services during the series.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope was to have an operation. I refused to have it, as I had a good wife, and finally got rid of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no option but to have an operation, to well but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Wm. M. Mullin, Carpenter, 602 Marcelline Avenue, Manhattan, New York, he will advise you. If you are a man who is ruptured, you may have a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

More Improvements Will Add Room and Double Size of Library

The pupils and teachers of Lowell school will hold memorial exercises this morning at 9 o'clock, at the school for their late principal James W. Scott, who died Tuesday morning. All other schools of the city and the offices of the board of education will be closed in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in order to give all connected with the schools opportunity to attend the funeral service, which he held from the First Congregational church at 4 o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. W. W. Rauner officiating. Interment will be at Grand Rapids, Mich.

The memorial services will be for the Lowell school exclusively and the following close friends of Mr. Scott will speak to the children in the various rooms:

Mr. Francis W. Goddard will address the seventh and eighth grades. Judge W. S. Morris who was chairman of the teachers' committee when Mr. Scott first came to the city, will speak to the sixth grade. Franklin E. Brooks, to the fifth. Dr. Samuel Gavin, to the third and fourth, and Dean Edward S. Parsons, of Colorado college to the first and second grades and kindergarten.

PLANS READY SOON FOR NEVADA UNDERCROSSING

New Structure to Replace Dangerous Affair to Be Built Before End of Summer

Drawing of plans for the new Denver & Rio Grande undercrossing on South Nevada avenue near the Lowell school is progressing and construction work probably will be begun early this spring. Commissioner Lawton of the department of public works and properties has received a letter from the general superintendent of the railroad saying that the company expected to begin operations early in the spring. As soon as the railroad's part of the work has progressed far enough Colorado Springs will begin its share which will consist principally of fixing up the street, building sidewalks and retaining walls. The new undercrossing will cost several thousand dollars and will be built of steel and concrete. It will replace the present wooden structure which is considered one of the most dangerous passageways for vehicles in the region.

SUCCESSFUL EVERYWHERE
People everywhere are talking of the quick and fine results Foley Kidney Pills give in backache, rheumatism and kidney and bladder trouble. You can not take them into your system and out good results. That is because Foley Kidney Pills give to the kidneys and bladder just what nature calls for to heal these weakened and inactive glands and bladder. It is a pleasure to recommend Foley Kidney Pills as this just worked wonders in my case. Robinson Drug Co.

Half Federal in Form Declares Major Lesson on Return From Conference of City Executives

Mayor T. McKesson returned yesterday from the federal conference of city executives held in Denver, Colo., where the formation of a permanent organization to be completed at a meeting to be called by the executive committee some time during the latter part of the year.

Mayor McKesson was elected chairman of the conference and reported to the city executive on some of the matters discussed at the meeting and called attention to the fact that Colorado Springs does not have a permanent form of government as is popularly believed.

Under the commission form of government he said, the people elect commissioners who in turn select a chairman or mayor. Under the federal form the people elect a mayor who is clothed with almost absolute power. The mayor selects a cabinet which acts as a council. So the form of government used in Colorado Springs is neither federal nor commission. It is half way between.

Mayor McKesson said that the most important action of the conference was the establishment of a municipal reference bureau to be maintained at the University of Colorado at Boulder. Information will be gathered by the bureau from cities all over the country on all matters of interest to municipalities. Colorado cities and towns will have access to the material gathered by the bureau.

TO DEMAND NEW VIADUCT OVER D. & R. G. TRACKS

City Officials Hope to Force Road to Build New Structure at Huernano Street

City officials are planning to make an effort to induce the Denver & Rio Grande Railway company to construct a new viaduct on Huernano street over the company's tracks. The first move will be made in a few days when a bill from the city to the railroad for the expense of replacing the viaduct will be sent. The work was done some time ago by the city on the advice of the city attorney.

If the company declines to pay, suit will be instituted. City officials say that in order to secure a new viaduct it will be necessary to prove that the present structure is unsafe or inadequate, and efforts to do this may be made in the near future. It is planned to have the new one built the full width of the street.

Recognized Advantages
You will find that Chaminade's Remedy has recognized advantages over most medicines in use. It does not suppress coughs but loosens and relieves it. It aids expectoration and opens the secretions which enables the system to throw off a cold. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. For sale by all dealers.

Plans for Springs Fair Still Being Considered

At a meeting of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon similar action was taken in regard to the central Colorado fair proposition as was taken by the mercantile division last week. The opinion was that the plans outlined were too elaborate considering the newness of the venture. However, the idea of holding such a fair with a committee was appointed consisting of L. A. Swanson, John Leinen and J. P. Fowler to investigate the matter of holding a fair and also to draw up plans along more conservative lines.

Suffragette Whips Baron Werdale; Is Arrested by Police

LONDON, Feb. 18.—A militant suffragette armed with a whip savagely attacked Baron Werdale while he was waiting today with 200 other wedding guests for a train to Althorp park, Northampton.

The party was going to attend the wedding of the Hon. Sydney Peel, son of Viscount Peel, and Lady Delta Spencer, daughter of Earl Spencer.

The suffragette apparently mistook the elderly peer for one of the cabinet ministers. Lord Werdale was walking with his wife along the platform when he was approached by the woman. At the first blow from her dog whip he fell to the ground.

Assault Arrested.

The anxiety of his friends was relieved when it was found that Lord Werdale had not suffered any serious injury. The woman was arrested.

When the suffragette who had assaulted Lord Werdale was arraigned she failed to give her name and told the police magistrate that she did not desire to say anything.

Lord Werdale said the woman was a stranger to him as a possible explanation of the assault. He noted that he and Earl Curzon of Kedleston were joint presidents of the Antisuffragette society. The detective who arrested the suffragette in Boston station said she told him, "I meant to give him a good thrashing. You don't know what harm he has done me."

The prisoner wore the badge of the Woman's Social and Political union. She was remanded for further inquiry.

"LITTLE LOST SISTER"

One thousand free copies of Virginia Brooks' book, "Little Lost Sister," will be distributed among homes for girls and in public institutions this spring. In the hope that the book may show a way to a better life, Miss Brooks has written a preface to the book which reads: "The book treats with a vivacious girl who has unpleasant home environments. Her father gives her a thorough whipping when he finds that she has told an untruth and the girl, between two fires, leaves home bound for Chicago with a white-clay recruit."

In the big city she meets with all sorts of mishaps, and finally after she has been sold into prostitution, she is rescued by a good man who takes her to a home for girls.

The book is intended to help girls to see the evils of bad surroundings and to encourage them to leave such places and go to better homes.

WELCOME TO WORLD TOURING PARTY CAN'T BE GREATER THAN ONE GIVEN PARTY IN '89

Governor Tener, President of the National League, Tells of First Tour of Globe

By FRANK MENKE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The welcome at the fair will extend to the returning world tourists may be a big and hearty one, but Gov. John K. Tener, president of the National League, believes that it cannot be greater than the one extended to the party of ball players who made the world's tour in 1888-89.

"I was a member of the party," said Governor Tener, "and the memory of the welcome extended to us will be with me always. Our boat was met on the bay by a boatload of fans, and we were given a rousing reception. When we landed at the pier we were given another wonderful welcome. A brass band met us and headed the parade back into the business part of the city.

"At the banquet that was tendered were some men famous then and now in many walks of life. De Wolf Hopper, the actor, was there, and he received 'Casey at the Bat' in the same intimitating way that has made him famous in the past 15 years. Chauncey Depew made an after-dinner speech that I still think was the greatest he ever made.

"Digby Bell, another actor, was at the banquet, and killed to the jollity of the occasion. So was Mark Twain. It was just about that time that Twain had risen to real fame; just then when his wonderful humor was becoming appreciated, and he kept the party in fits of laughter.

"About 22 ball players made the trip, about 10 fans went along to keep company, and also there were several ladies. Included in our party of ball players were such men as 'Cap' Anson, Al Spalding, John M. Ward, Daly, Eddie Crane, the New York pitcher, and many other players who were among the stars of that period.

"We left about October 13 or 14, in 1888, and returned about April 14. As I remember it, we left just a day or two before the 1888 season closed and returned the day before the 1889 season began. It took us longer to make the trip than it did the Giants and White Sox, although we didn't go to the Orient, as they did. However, this is due to the fact that travel was much slower in those days.

"We went post to Honolulu, and then sailed for Australia, playing in New Zealand, Tasmania, and Australia. From there we went to Egypt, and then crossed to Europe, playing at many of the European cities that have been visited by the White Sox and Giants.

"Baseball was a new game in those days to the people in the countries we visited. The fact that the game is played and understood in many parts of Europe and the Orient now, I believe, is due to our missionary work.

It is not thought that many of us will have to be made in the after the first week of practice, I thought that the team work can be perfected while the elimination contests are being held.

RONNIE SIGNS WITH GIANTS FOR ONE YEAR

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The New York National League club today received the signed contract of Pitcher Arthur Fromme, who, according to report, had been negotiating with the Federal League all winter. Fromme signed for only one year.

'WHY WORK FOR INDOOR MEET?' ASK TIGER TRACK STARS; 'IT DOESN'T MEAN ANYTHING'

Athletes Want to Save Selves for Big Meets; Would Have to Train Four Months

That the Colorado college track team this spring will be one of the strongest in the history of track athletics at the local institution is by now pretty generally conceded in hostile camps. But that the Tiger showing at the conference indoor meet in Denver, February 28, will be anything but criterion to go by is not known outside the Springs. In fact, few here are aware of the fact.

Nevertheless, unless there is a mighty big change within the next few days, the Tigers will carry away most of the prizes at the Denver meet. And this because of a little difference of opinion among the 28 men signed up for the track squad and Coach Rothko.

About 10 of the men who have signed are working—and working hard—to get into condition for the meet. But the remaining 18 are getting out only now and then—and then for only light workouts.

Rothko is getting real peeved, and threatens to reduce the list of eligibles by not a few. Meanwhile those who have as yet displayed no inclination for work are sitting back awaiting developments.

"Why should we work our heads off now? What does the indoor meet amount to, anyway?" they say. (But not to Rothko.)

"To get into any kind of condition for the Denver meet we would have to work every day from at least February 1. We wouldn't object to that if the indoor meet were a big one. But, just think, the last meet comes along the last of May—and those coming in April and May are the big ones of the conference. If we start to work in time for the indoor meet we would have to remain in strict training for more than four months. Why, we would go stale long before the decisive meets were scheduled, and just for the sake of making a showing in Denver before the season opens!"

The reasoning, on the face of it, is sound. Few athletes want to stay in training four months. And they believe they should save themselves for the big meets in the spring, rather than expend their energies now for the indoor meet this month.

But they have not presented their arguments to Rothko. And, in the meantime, he has exploded several times. So it is simply a question of getting together and arguing it out.

"In the biggest colleges and universities in the country, a place on an athletic team is considered one of the highest honors a student can attain," says Coach Rothko. "The fellows who go in for athletics do so because they like it and because they want to get what honor they can out of it. I don't want anybody on the track team this spring who thinks he has to compete for the college. None but the men who enjoy athletics, and who are willing to work, need try for the team. Some of these fellows who think they can practice once or twice before a meet and get in condition, are going to be surprised."

The Tigers this year will be strong.

Johnny Evers Will Play Second Base for Boston Braves

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—John J. Evers, former manager of the Chicago National League club, who was acquired a few days ago by the Boston Nationalals, came here tonight from his home in Troy, N. Y.

Evers was informed that he would play second base and that Sweeney, who was second baseman last season, would be in competition with Deal, a recruit, for the third base position. This was the statement of Manager Stelling, who also said that Sweeney would not act as captain.

Guy Axworthy Sold to H. C. Moody for $2,100 at Auction

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The midwinter horse auction at Madison Square Garden was concluded today. The prices averaged a little better than on the opening day. Guy Axworthy, a 12-year-old stallion by Axworthy-Lillian Wilkes, and 17 others, comprised the consignment from former Senator Joseph W. Patels Fairland Farm, Lexington, Ky., which brought $11,220, an average of $623. The top price of the day was $2,100, paid for Guy Axworthy by H. C. Moody of Lexington, Kentucky.

Chance Leases Big Hotel at Houston for Use of Players

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The New York American League club announced tonight that it had closed a lease of a hotel at Houston, Tex., for the use of the players who will report in that city March 1 for spring training. A number of the men will leave here February 26, to be joined by others in Cincinnati the following day, in order to arrive at the camp on schedule time. The players now in Hot Springs will leave there for Texas February 27 in the care of Coach Tom Daly. Manager Chance will have 25 regulars and recruits in line when the training season begins.

Rothy Objects and Threatens to Drop All Who Refuse to Work From Squad

In field events and distances short runs and hurdles are causing not a little worry. Cowdry, who enabled the Tigers to win the Bouldin meet last year by taking the hurdles, has been graduated, and there are few candidates to develop a new hurdler from "Mac" Davis, the Monte Vista athlete who furnished the sensation of last year's meet, will be the pivot around which this year's Tiger team will be built. He set new marks for the pole vault and shot put and tied with Hennebold, Augie, and Hall, Boulder, for a new high jump record. Captain Koch is one of the best men in the conference with the shot, hammer and discus. Holmes, the colored athlete, is strong with the shot, and likely will win a place in either the hammer or discus.

Provided Wray, Havens and Hall run anywhere near form, the Tigers count on winning two or three places in distances. Coehoorn's work in the

GOLF

For the last 15 years the national amateur championship has been played over a course adjacent to some large city. This year it goes to the Little Vermont town of Manchester, says the Golfer Magazine.

As is to be expected of a mountain course, Ekwano is hilly and the hills are so taken advantage of that the best of golf is required from the first tee to the home green. The par of the course generally is considered to be 70, equally divided between the outgoing and incoming holes. The amateur record for the course is also 70, though the mark was made under unusually favorable conditions.

Manchester possesses one large hotel, the Equinox house, and in the village there is a smaller hotel as well as a number of places where the golfer can be accommodated. It is the hope of the U. S. G. A. officials that the list of entries will not number over 80, and if it is kept down to that figure there will be no crowding at Manchester.

The size of the galleries in a place so remote as Ekwano will no doubt establish a new record, for they will be at the smallest in many years.

Probably the best-known holes at Ekwano are the seventh and tenth, both long holes. The seventh measures 537 yards from tee to green. It begins with a downhill drive that must be accurately placed to avoid trouble, and then comes a most difficult second shot over a high ridge, with bunkers guarding the way. The rest of the way to the green it is less difficult going. The tenth has been described as the best two-shot hole in the country. The narrow fairway and sloping green make it a ticklish proposition for the long second shot that must be played, for the hole is an even 500 yards in length.

There are four holes on the course but they are all hard ones. The fourth, sixth, seventh and thirteenth are the holes on which the golfer is expected to reach the green from the tee.

The officials of the United States Golf Association are having their usual trouble in getting the clubs to return the necessary data that the national handicap list for this year may be made up. It is some time ago since the first notices were distributed, and on January 2, John Reid, Jr., the secretary, sent out to secretaries of the several clubs in membership of the association the following postcard:

Dear Sir—Send in the handicaps of your members at once, according to instructions sent you, unless you wish to have them declared ineligible to compete in the amateur championship of 1914. If you have no members eligible under the ruling to compete in this event kindly notify me of the fact immediately.

Despite this Mr. Reid points out that up to the present, only 182 handicap reports have been received out of a total of 364 clubs. Some of the clubs will be heard from, he says, are among the most prominent in the United States Golf Association and unless their reports are received in the very near future the executive committee will be obliged to publish a list of the delinquent clubs.

A notice to this effect is being sent out to each club in the association which has not sent in its report.

ENTIRE REVISION OF DRAFT RULES IS ONE OF THE CRYING NEEDS OF MAJOR LEAGUES

Must Have System That Will Benefit Weak Clubs in Proportion to Their Weakness

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—An entire revision of the draft rule, one that will help the weaker clubs in proportion to their weakness, is one of the crying needs of major league baseball.

If the rule could be so changed that the weaker clubs would reap the largest portion of the draft harvest, it would mean more evenly matched teams, closer pennant battles, larger gate receipts at the ball fields after mid-season, and the incidental fattening of the magnates' bank rolls.

Balch won the broad jump last year, and is still good. C. Johnson, Fricker and Fricke are the other jumpers, but, with the exception of Johnson, are little known. Half dozen candidates are out for the middle distances, but most of them are new men. The Tiger roll:

Koch (captain) - Shot, hammer, discus.

Davis - High jump, pole vault, shot, hammer, discus.

Holmes - Shot, hammer, discus, sprints.

A New-Type Six

Less Price Less Weight Less Fuel Cost Than Fours

This new car, the HUDSON Six-40, brings out many innovations.

The engine is a type first developed in Europe—a small bore, long-stroke motor. And Europe, which deemed the Six too wasteful, now proclaims this Six as the coming type of car.

It has made possible for the first time an economical Six far more economical than Fours.

This new HUDSON Six-40 weighs 2,980 pounds. That's 400 pounds less than last year's HUDSON "37." It consumes one-fourth less fuel. Yet the HUDSON "37" was a four-cylinder car, shorter, less roomy, less powerful.

Compared with other Fours in this class the difference is greater. Some semi-class Fours weigh 40 per cent more and consume one-third more fuel.

Price $1750

And this HUDSON Six-40 is a quality Six far undersells any Four in its class. So a man who now buys this-class car pays more for a Four and more for its upkeep than this HUDSON Six-40 costs.

This means, beyond doubt, the doom of Fours above $1500.

For several years no Four has been salable at a price which would buy a good Six. Eighteen high-class makers now build Sixes exclusively, and 50 of them build Sixes for heavy. If so, we urge that you come and see it now.

Now comes a modest-price, high-class Six

54 of the 79 Automobile exhibitors at the 14th National Automobile Show held in New York Jan. 3 to 10 this year, displayed six-cylinder cars. Eighteen showed $1-ea exclusively. That emphasizes the dominance of Sixes.
